Description

Safety is of the highest importance in the lab and the Precision H₂ detector operates in conjunction with the Precision Hydrogen Trace models to ensure peace of mind for those cautious of having Hydrogen produced in the lab.

The Precision H₂ detector works by connecting to the GC oven and monitoring the level of Hydrogen in the oven, the only place where there is a possibility of Hydrogen building up. In the unlikely event of a Hydrogen build-up, the generator is automatically shut down, keeping the lab safe.
